

Annex C)

Monitoring indicators for Call 5.3 – An effective system of evaluation of targeted support programmes

BINDING INDICATORS
Name	Unit of measurement	Definition/description	Monitoring, means of recording in the BENEFIT7 application
The number of newly created/innovated products (NI code: 064310)	Number	The total number of newly created/innovated products the quality of which has been increased due to changes made to their targets, contents, methods and forms (new/innovated educational programmes, new educational modules, study materials, pilot testing, analyses, researches, syntheses, teaching aids, e-learning courses, web portals etc.). The requirements of call 5.3 OP RDI include the development of methodologies for evaluating the individual types of targeted support programmes. It is a methodology (novelty of procedures is required) that was adopted by the Provider of the targeted support programme for practical use. Only methodologies which are final and applicable in the evaluation of the	Target value of the indicator will be binding on both the project and programme document level.

		programme in question may be included; continuous or cross-sectional methodologies cannot.
Number of institutions involved in the system of evaluation of targeted support of R&D (NI code: 132600)	Number	Total number of institutions involved in the project. These are institutions that are end users of the outputs – methodologies for evaluation of the individual targeted support programmes. This includes beneficiaries and partners of the project as well as collaborating organisations.	Target value of the indicator will be binding on the project level.
Number of employees for the evaluation of targeted support programmes in R&D (NI code: 132700)	Number	Total number of employees whose main job description (at least 0.5 FTE) is the evaluation of targeted support programmes at individual providers of this support. They must be employed by the project beneficiary or project partner.	Target value of the indicator will not be binding on the project level.