

The profile of the Historical Archives service has been shaped in more than fifty years by the structure and activities of the three European Communities (ECSC, EEC, EURATOM) and of the Commission of the European Communities, which is today the European Commission.

Reflecting the continuous development and changes of these organisations, the Historical Archives service operates to promote public interest in the activities of the European Union, to encourage research in the field of history of the European integration and to contribute to the transparency of the European Institutions.
